NAME OF THE EVENT: WORLD POPULATION DAY

DATE: 11.07.2025

NO OF VOLUNTEERS: 212

LOCATION: RALLY TILL GANDHI NAGAR TO COLLEGE

SUMMARY OF THE EVENT:

On the occasion of World Population Day on July 11th, We NSS Unit and Department of Economics have organized a meaningful awareness rally to highlight the theme "Small Family, Big Happiness." The objective was to spread awareness about the impact of overpopulation and promote the benefits of family planning for a healthy and balanced society.

The program began with a brief inaugural session at the college premises, where the Principal and faculty members addressed the students about the importance of population control and responsible parenthood.

Following the session, students and staff participated in a rally, holding placards, banners, and chanting slogans to spread awareness among the public. The rally passed through nearby streets and public areas, drawing attention and engaging with the community.

Key messages included:

- "Small Family, Happy Family"
- "Think for Tomorrow—Plan Your Family Today"
- "More Population, More Problems"
- "One or Two—That's Enough for You"

The active participation of students made the rally impactful and informative. The public responded positively, with many acknowledging the importance of the message.

The event concluded with a reflection session back at the college, emphasizing that awareness and education are the first steps toward sustainable development.
